Hamkae Center

June 8, 2023

"It's an honor just to be Asian." – Sandra Oh

This Oh fellow is quite insightful.

Thank you for joining this celebration tonight of 10 years of Asian American connecting, powerbuilding, and laughing. It's so good to have fun, right? Because we always seem to be in the midst of some political and social turmoil, a moment of multiple and overlapping crises.

And during times like this, what do we need to get through each day?

We need purpose.

We need joy.

And we need each other.

Hamkae Center has tried over the last 10 years (sometimes better than others) to be a political home to Asian Americans in Virginia (and sometimes to our friends in DC and Maryland). A place where being Asian American doesn't look one way. A place where we can be honest about the difficulties of getting through, of surviving, and talk about dreams of a better life. A place where Asian Americans organize with other Asian Americans to build the power needed to counterbalance the harms of oppression. A place where one can share, learn, and act with integrity to meet head-on the challenges facing our communities and pursue those dreams.

"Movements are born of critical connections rather than critical mass." – Grace Lee Boggs

Welcome to Pursuing Our Dreams 2023. Meet people who have decided to get engaged and make a difference. Listen to their stories. Tell your stories. Build those critical connections. And build with Hamkae Center together.

With love,

Sookyung Oh, Director

Dear Friends:

On behalf of the Board of Supervisors, I'd like to take this opportunity to congratulate Hamkae Center on its 10th anniversary. "Hamkae" means together in Korean. This name symbolizes the Korean American roots in the past, the strength as an Asian American community in the present, and the vision for justice and prosperity for all communities in the future. This year's celebration amplifies the growth of Hamkae Center, which has expanded to working with multiple Asian American communities throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia.

As Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, my values and Hamkae Center's mission are both centered on racial, economic, and social justice for its most marginalized communities. Fairfax County is committed to ensuring a successful future for all its residents, built on the pillars of a strong educational system, a thriving economy, and ongoing equitable opportunities for its diverse community. As we move forward, I am committed to continuing to create positive, solutions-oriented, and lasting changes for all our residents.

As we celebrate Hamkae Center's contributions to the community and its recognition of diversity and strength today, I am so grateful that Hamkae Center has a presence in our region. I look forward to continuing to partner to make Fairfax County an even better place to live, work, play and raise a family.

Best wishes and congratulations again.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey C. McKay
Chairman

Dr. Sujatha Hampton has a Masters and Ph.D. in Special Education with a focus on Learning Disabilities and Serious Emotional Disturbance. She has worked as a teacher in Washington, DC, Austin, TX, and Montgomery County Public Schools; as a special education professor at The University of Virginia, focusing her work on pre-service training for teachers of students with emotional and behavioral problems; and as the Title I Coordinator for Albemarle County Public Schools, where she focused on literacy and closing the opportunity and achievement gap. Upon moving back home to Northern Virginia, Sujatha wrote a novel which was published in 2010. Sujatha currently serves on the Fairfax County Library Board of Trustees, the Advisory Council for the Political Leadership Academy at George Mason University's Carter School for Peace and Conflict Resolution, and as the 2nd Vice President and Education Chair of the Fairfax County NAACP. The larger goal of all this work is the justice and joy that might be had if every child could access an excellent education offered in respect, rooted in truth, and suffused with love.

PERFORMERS

Onion Ha came to the United States when he was 6 years old. Growing up, he dove deep into lifestyle of hiphop by becoming a breakdancer. He learned to appreciate the other elements of hiphop and uses poetry as an emotional outlet for himself. He hopes his art will help people feel like they aren't alone in the struggle, hopes it will inspire people to continue fighting for what's right, and heal inward traumas residing inside.

Kashvi Ramani, a 17-year-old from Northern Virginia and a high school junior at a private school in Massachusetts, was named the Inaugural 2023-24 Virginia Youth Poet Laureate on 29 Apr 2023. She is the co-Head of the poetry club as well as the Head of the literary magazine at her school. In 2022, Kashvi was the Youth Poet Laureate of Arlington County Virginia, and named a YoungArts Finalist in Theater and Merit winner in Writing for Spoken Word Poetry. She has been working with the Arlington, Virginia poet laureate and a few poets as co-editor of a poetry anthology to be published in May 2023. She has been a member of the 2021-22 Virginia Young Poets in Community and the 2020-21 Split This Rock's DC Slam Youth Poetry Team. Since 2019, she has won several Scholastic Writing Awards for her Poetry and in other categories like Personal Essay/Memoir, Dramatic Script, Novel, and Short Story. Her poetry has been published in Rattle, the YoungArts Anthology, Brown Girl Magazine, Beat Burg, Loudoun Community Magazine, Collaborative Solutions for Communities, Poetry Society of Virginia, SEEMA, American Kahani, and AsAm News. Kashvi draws inspiration for her poetry from topics important to her and passionate about. Poetry provides her the opportunity to express a unique perspective on the world through her diverse experiences. She hopes to continue her journey as a young female Indian-American and make a difference in her own small way.

HONOREES

Sara Touraif is a second-generation Moroccan American who was born and raised, along with her 3 siblings, in the Fairfax area. In high school, Sara canvassed in the 2016 Presidential election and this sparked an interest in politics and government, which she studied at George Mason University. Combined with a passion for travel and learning about the traditions and lifestyles of other people, Sara has remained very involved with community-grounded civic engagement, including at Hamkae Center and the affiliated c4, NAKASEC Action Fund.

Mark Lee Keam is a long time public servant and community activist. Most recently, he served a political appointment in the Biden Administration, and was elected seven times to the Virginia House of Delegates where he chaired the Higher Education Subcommittee. As a naturalized American, he has long advocated for immigrant and minority rights, and introduced bills to support DACA, Office of New Americans, funding for ESL, and environmental justice. As chief counsel to U.S. Senator Dick Durbin, he helped draft the DREAM Act. Mark grew up in four countries and attended schools in five.

Senator Ghazala Hashmi, Ph.D. serves in the Virginia General Assembly, representing the 10th Senatorial District which includes parts of Richmond City, Chesterfield County, and all of Powhatan County. She sits on the following Senate committees: Education and Health; Agriculture, Conservation and Natural Resources; General Laws and Technology; and Local Government.

Senator Hashmi also chairs the Senate Subcommittee on Public Education. Prior to her election in November 2019, Senator Hashmi had a long career in higher education in Virginia.

HONOREES

Edgar Aranda-Yanoc, LLM currently works with Meyer Foundation as the Virginia Partnerships and Strategy Director. He is the former Senior Lead Organizer with Legal Aid Justice Center and the former Executive Director of the Virginia Coalition of Latino Organizations. He is the founding member of the Virginia Coalition for Immigrant Rights and Drive Virginia Forward Coalition. Edgar has more than a decade of experience working in the field of immigrant rights in the Commonwealth. He has engaged in multiple campaigns for the rights of immigrants at the local, state and federal levels. Edgar also has fought for several state-wide immigrant rights causes such as the expansion of in-state tuition to include immigrant youth as well as the recently passed legislation that will expand access to driver's licenses to all Virginia residents regardless of their immigration status. Edgar has served on different boards including the Executive Committee of the National Day Laborer Organizing Network, the Arlington Free Clinic and the Complete Count Committees in both Arlington and Fairfax Counties. In 2019, Edgar was named one of the 100 most influential people for the Nation's Capital Metro-Area Latinos by Tiempo Latino, a regional Spanish language publication. In 2016, he was the recipient of Fairfax County Board of Supervisors' proclamation acknowledging Hispanic Heritage Month for his contribution to the Hispanic community in Fairfax County. In 2014, Edgar was awarded the Jane Bagely Lehman Award for Excellence in Public Advocacy for his work in helping to remove barriers to educational equity for undocumented immigrant students in Virginia. In 2012, he was recognized by the Virginia Interfaith Center for Public Policy as an outstanding social justice maker for his dedication to advancing opportunities for Virginia's Latino and immigrant communities. In 2011, he received a Practitioner Fellowship from the Kalmanovitz Initiative for Labor and the Working Poor of Georgetown University where Edgar enjoyed the opportunity to study issues impacting immigrant workers in a more in-depth manner. In 2010, Edgar received the Linowes Leadership Award of the Community Foundation of the Greater Capital Region. Edgar received an LLM for foreign lawyers from the Temple University James E. Beasley School of Law where he received the Professor Samuel Gyandoh Award for his outstanding professional and personal service to the law school community. Prior to coming to the United States, Edgar was a practicing attorney in his native country Peru. He received his undergraduate degree in Political Science and Law from the University of Ancash in Peru "Santiago Antunez de Mayolo".

HONOREES

The Commonwealth Institute for Fiscal Analysis (TCI) advances racial and economic justice in Virginia by advocating for public policies that are designed in partnership with people most impacted, and shaped by credible, accessible fiscal and policy research. TCI is a critical player in an ecosystem of policy advocates that have a shared broad vision for building power with communities of color and people with low incomes. We contribute a unique expertise with our fiscal and policy research capabilities, in order to dismantle systems of racism and replace them with new, inclusive systems of justice and opportunity.

FOUNDING MEMBERS OF NAKASEC VA

There would be no Hamkae Center without this group of individuals. They laid the foundation with their conviction and tireless efforts. They did the awesome task of building trust with undocumented Korean Americans, and later with the wider undocumented Asian American communities in the DMV region. They organized friends and families. They slept on church floors and cargo vans in their journeys to justice tours. The true weight of their sacrifices may never be calculated, and we hope that this acknowledgment is one of many times their contributions are documented and celebrated.
